Royal Road, Maracas, St. Joseph
CAREER OPPORTUNITY

Applications are invited from suitably qualified individuals for the following position:

SCHOOL OF SCIENCES, TECHNOLOGY AND ALLIED HEALTH

DEAN

The University of the Southern Caribbean is a fast growing, tertiary Seventh-day Adventist University with full institutional accreditation. The main campus is located in the beautiful Maracas Valley in Trinidad and Tobago. USC offers higher education based on the Christian philosophy of the Seventh-day Adventist church, fostering intellectual curiosity, cultural diversity, spiritual nurture, and moral integrity. With a multi-cultural mix of faculty, staff and students, the University offers a wide range of academic programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Currently we have in excess of two thousand, five hundred students. As a religiously qualified Equal Opportunity Employer, we reserve the right to prefer persons who are committed to our philosophy and advancing of Seventh-day Adventist Christian Education and service.

JOB SUMMARY

The Dean is the chief officer of the School and as such is its executive head, representative, and administrator. The Dean works with the Chairs and others to monitor and improve the general academic health and welfare of a group of academic disciplines and programs. The Dean is responsible for the organization and operation of the School, including the operations of the departments and of its organised research units, and for its effectiveness in achieving its purpose. The Dean is also involved as a major campus officer in helping to articulate the educational purposes of the campus and to foster their accomplishment. As a member of the campus administration, the Dean is responsible for working cooperatively with other campus officials, to ensure that University and campus policies and requirements are carried out, while employing innovative ideas to integrate campus and faculty objectives. Diversity of style and of emphasis is expected. The Dean reports to the Provost and is a full-time academic-administrative official. The Dean serves as an advisor on academic advisory committees and may also perform special assignments from time to time.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Develops and implements a Strategic Plan for the School of Sciences, Technology and Allied Health, that aligns with the goals of the University (mission, vision and value statements).
- Leads in preparation and monitoring of the annual budget of the School.
- Responsible for instructional, research and professional service programs.
- Supervises, evaluates and supports departments of the School in a manner that promotes the University's Value Statement - Beyond Excellence.
- Leads and manages program offerings, curriculum and accreditation activities.
- Coordinates the development of new programs and the improvement of existing ones.
- Responsible for the evaluation of Chairs/Directors and Staff in the School.
- Establishes relationships with external constituencies/businesses to improve the internship programs for students and enhance practicum and research opportunities for students and faculty.
- Advises the Provost on all faculty and other matters relating to the School, as a member of the Deans Council.

QUALIFICATION AND EXPERIENCE

To perform this job successfully, the position holder must be able to perform each essential duty satisfactorily. The position requires:

- A doctoral degree in a related field from an accredited institution.
At least five (5) years of progressive leadership as a departmental chair or above, or other significant managerial/leadership that will qualify the candidate ranking of at least an Associate Professor, and which demonstrates successful interaction with other disciplines.
- A strong track record of pedagogic or related activities in a discipline appropriate to the work of the School.
- Must have a history of publication(s) in refereed journals or publications.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS

- Involvement in scholarly research.
- Capable of working with Government and Non-Governmental Organisations in the region and elsewhere.
- Knowledge of teaching, learning procedures and outcomes.
- Strong interpersonal, communication and leadership skills.
- Committed to high moral, spiritual, and ethical standards of the University of the Southern Caribbean.
